Media Release

Bombora Wave Power recently met with The Honourable Julie Bishop, Deputy Leader of the Liberal Party and Minister for Foreign Affairs, to present their innovative technology and discuss how the Australian Federal Government can foster innovation.

Discussion focused on the renewable energy sector highlighting the need for supportive, robust and stable regulatory framework to encourage private sector investment. "I was pleased to meet with directors of Bombora to discuss their work in wave power technology and how the federal government can assist in creating an environment that encourages the development of innovative technology" said Minister Bishop.
